Message from the Head Teacher

Peter Pan arrived at Fulford School this week along with The Lost Boys, The Pirates and Fulford's very own Climate Protestors. The musical has had a 3 night run and over 80 pupils supported by staff from all areas of the school have created a real delight. The talent of our pupils was lovely to see, I would like to thank them all for sharing their enthusiasm with us. This has been matched by their commitment at rehearsals and for the support they have shown each other. I would also like to thank all the members of staff who have given their time freely, with a special mention to the Drama and Music departments.

The arts are an invaluable element of school life. They give us a unique insight into the world in which we live. They bring richness into our day and give an opportunity to celebrate creativity. It is important that we value the arts contribution to our lives, both inside and outside school. Our school show is a showcase for a vibrancy that lies with our school's art provision. A provision we are committed to nurture and grow within the school and wider community.

We are now well over the half way mark of the school year. Year 11 return to mock exams after the holiday. They continue to work well and focus their preparations on the summer exams. I encourage pupils to use their holiday to continue these preparations but also to make sure they have time to relax and spend time with family and friends.

I wish all pupils and parent/carers a good half term break. I look forward to welcoming everyone back on Monday 24th February.

Yours sincerely

Steve Lewis
Head Teacher
